

Building Systems that Care for Birth to Fives

February 3- 4, 2011 • The Westin, Long Beach, CA

Join top researchers, national advocates and health and social-service professionals for the first national conference on infant and early childhood mental health.

Watch for our Call for Papers in May

- Prevention and intervention strategies for children under 5
- Treating trauma in young children
- Serving culturally diverse children and their families
- Engaging families of young children involved with child welfare
- Building collaborations across early childhood systems
- Special family issues impacting child outcomes
- Cutting-edge research and policy relevant to young children
- And more

About Building Connections for young children and their families

Presentations by prominent experts:

Gary Blau, PhD, U.S. Department of Health and Human Services

Charles Zeanah, MD, Tulane Institute of Infant and Early Childhood Mental Health

Betsy McCallister-Groves, LICSW, Boston University School of Medicine & Co-Director of the Child Protection Team at Boston Medical Center.

Chandra Ghosh Ippen, PhD, Early Trauma Treatment Network and many more.

Project ABC is a collaboration of the Los Angeles County Department of Mental Health, Los Angeles County Department of Children and Family Services, Children's Institute, Inc., the University of Southern California's University Center for Excellence in Developmental Disabilities at Children's Hospital Los Angeles, and the USC School of Social Work. Project ABC is funded through the U.S. Department of Health and Human Services, Substance Abuse and Mental Health Services Administration (SAMHSA).

For more information visit: www.projectabc-la.org